

Will a security deposit be required for a new connection?

LUCELEC requires a security deposit be paid before an electricity supply is provided.

- The deposit normally does not exceed the charge for an estimated two months supply of electricity.
- Deposits earn interest at a rate to be determined from time to time by agreement between LUCELEC and the Government of St. Lucia
- Deposits are held to cover any outstanding bills if a person or organisation is unable to pay.
- A performance bond is also acceptable for large customers. They are usually valid for one (1) year and therefore must be renewed annually.
